"It's a Pleasure To Deal With That House by Telephone"

HAVE never met that young man face to face," said a business man recently, as he hung up his receiver after a telephone conversation; "but the way he talks over the telephone is typical of the whole organization of that house. They always answer every question in a polite and courteous manner. They never keep you waiting unnecessarily. They all seem to take a personal interest in what you have to say, and you can be sure that your telephone requests will have the most careful attention.'

Isn't such an endorsement of your house by those who deal with you by telephone a valuable business asset?

> It is well worth while to make sure every employee in your organization appreciates the value of telephone etiquette to himself and to your house.
